Fresno Blossom Trail & Squaw Valley Herb Garden Followed by no host lunch At the famous Santa Fe Basque Restaurant

Join us for an exciting day at the peak of Blossom Trail beauty. We'll start with a rest stop at Simonian Farms, a farm in operation since 1901. See antique farm equipment and enjoy the farm store. We'll pick up our step-on guide, Dorothy Boldt, an undiscovered gem of a storyteller and part of three generations of farmers still working the land. She tells stories of blossoms and tree fruit, families and farms, in a fascinating and personal way. We'll spend about two hours on this tour of eye-catching blossoms.

We then arrive at Squaw Valley Herb Gardens and enjoy a culinary tour featuring herbs and spices. Rosemary and her husband, artist Tim Friesen established their gardens in 1984. Learn and laugh as you rediscover herbs and spices. Rosemary will serve tea and snacks during our tour. After our tour we're off to a wonderful Basque lunch at the famous Santa Fe Basque Restaurant (opening especially for our group on a Sunday). You can go to their website at www.santafebasque.com to see the delicious meals you may choose from. Lunch is no host and not included in the price of the tour.

After lunch we'll head for home after a wonderful day of eye and stomach treats.

If you'd like to reserve your space on this tour please call David Maislen at (805) 474-4010 between 9:00 am and 5:00 pm and make a reservation. If you get voice mail please provide your name, telephone number and number of people traveling.
